There has been a big influx of attractive modern baby furniture and accessories over the last couple of years making it much easier for picky parents like us to find things for our kids. I just found this new site the other day that has some fairly decent stuff. It's called icribbedding.com and they have their own line of bedding with matching pillows, blankets, swaddles, towels and even wall prints. While their prices for a crib set are about the same as dwell baby, you can just buy sheets individually for $35 which is a nice option.

Available from icribbedding from $35 - $300.
